Espresso goes mobile

MINA

The traditional manufacturer Olympia Express presents a small and fine innovation: the Mina, the powerless espresso maker for maximum espresso enjoyment. The Mina is a compact, portable hand lever espresso maker for enjoying the perfect espresso on the go. The mobile espresso maker is the travel companion for all espresso lovers.

As a purely mechanical, electricity-free device, the Mina can be used in almost any conditions—in a camper van on a road trip along the coast, on a ski tour on a mountain peak or in a hotel on a business trip. As long as the other ingredients of hot water and ground coffee are available, nothing stands in the way of the perfect espresso. The Mina also cuts a fine figure in the kitchen at home. Its green aluminum body is a small, discreet splash of color and thanks to its small size, the Mina fits anywhere and is easy to store.

The Mina remains true to the sustainable brand philosophy of Olympia Express. Only high-quality and durable materials are used, manufactured in-house wherever possible. Despite its compact size, it offers a stable stand and leaves a solid impression. The little sister of the legendary Cremina espresso machine has the same tried-and-tested 49 mm coffee portafilter, which is compatible with all Cremina accessories. This ensures that the Mina has all the necessary utensils for a perfect espresso. An ergonomically shaped mini tamper and a practical drip tray round off the set. And even if the Mina lacks the crema in its name—the Mina can conjure up a beautiful crema on your espresso.

All you need to make an espresso with the Mina is hot water and ground coffee. The Mina can be removed from its handy carrying case, assembled and ready for use in no time at all. After filling with water and coffee, the lever is moved upwards, the valve in the piston opens and water flows into the coffee. When the lever is pressed down, the valve closes and pressure is built up. The pressure indicator allows the pressure to be set precisely by hand.

The design of the Mina reflects Olympia Express' decades of experience: clear lines, robust surfaces and easy maintenance are the main focus. True to the motto "Built for a little eternity", the Mina is developed and manufactured in Switzerland and stands for the highest quality and durability.

With the Mina, Olympia Express sets new standards for mobile espresso preparation and enables coffee lovers to enjoy perfect espresso anytime and anywhere. With the Mina, the next trip around the world begins today.
